Version Number 0.2.3

JANUARY 2026

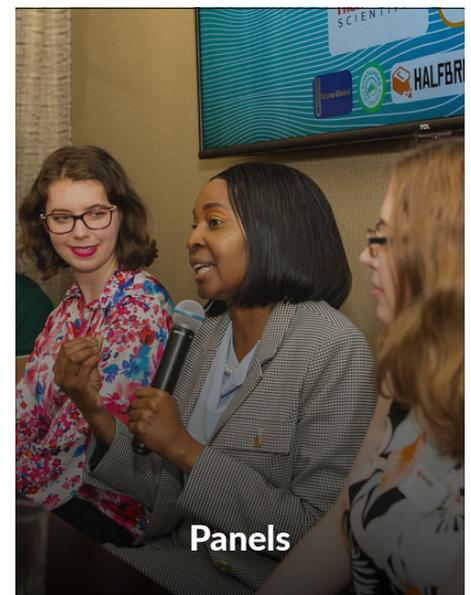

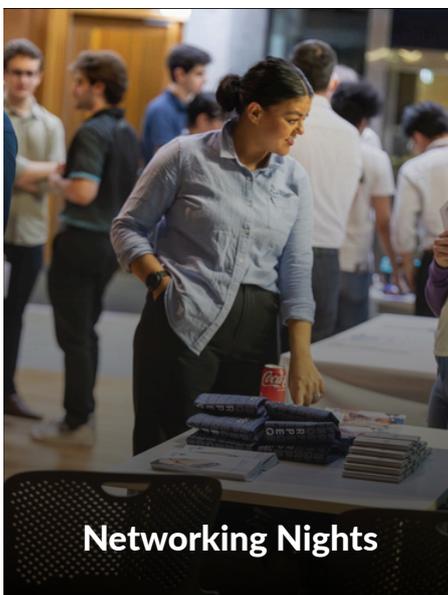

About Us

Who are UQ MARS?

The UQ Mechatronics and Robotics Society is an award-winning, student-led hub for learning and innovation in robotics and automation. With a diverse network of 230 members from different academic and socioeconomic backgrounds UQ MARS supports anyone that has interest in the field of Mechatronics and Robotics.

What is apart of UQ MARS's Events Portfolio?

UQ MARS hosts a variety of interactive community-focused events annually. These events range from Trivia Nights for members to connect with each other in fun hearted competition to our industry focused Networking Nights where members get to understand ins and outs of the workforce. Our events Portfolio includes nine events for our members, five of which are able to be attended by partners of UQ MARS uniquely sponsoring the event portfolio. This includes two major networking nights, two industry seminars, and a panel annually. UQ MARS holds, collaboratively or otherwise, a Networking Night each semester with 50+ attendees. This event attracts members who are looking to connect with your employees and understand their future roles in the workforce. Additionally, two industry seminars are held throughout the year. These provide an opportunity to spotlight aspects of industry that members can learn and understand from professionals. The final event is a panel of experts from a variety of industries fitting a chosen theme each year. In 2025, this theme was Tech and Start-ups in Mining.
